

Western Music Society

The Western Music Society of Indraprastha College is one of the youngest societies in the College, as it was formed in 2009. Despite being one of the youngest society it has managed to achieve a number of milestones as they have been actively participating in any music events of not only the college but in the university and beyond. The society has flourished over the years and is considered to be one of the best music societies in the University.

The Western Music society holds auditions every year to extract fresh talent and encourage students with musical prowess. The potential that the students have are honed with rigorous workshops which have been fruitful as the students are trained under the guidance of brilliant music teachers in the city true discipline that the Western Classical Music demands. The society not only actively engages itself into inter-college music events but also performs at various in-house events like Independence Day, Farewell, Annual College fest etc.

The fest of Western Music Society witness huge number of enthusiastic participants from all over the University, as the society believes in perseverance, experimentation, team work and undertakes rigorous skill building of its members. The society has won various inter-college group and solo singing competitions, such as at the Rendezvous of IIT Delhi fest.

The Western Music Society has been constantly supported, appreciated and encouraged by the college authorities for all its efforts. We wish to keep the embers of our love for western music alive throughout our lives. With consistent hard work and determination, we wish to bring more laurels to the society as well as the college.
