FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Thank you for choosing Indraprastha College for Women and congratulations on making the mark!

In its 93rd year now, the College has been accredited with Grade 'A' by NAAC. The College in the Centenary Decade (1924-2023), has grand plans spread over the next few years as it sets its sights on celebrating 100 years of its existence. It opened two new resource and research centres in 2015, the Translation and Translation Studies Centre and the Museum and Archives Learning Resource Centre. This year it has added two more, the Centre for Earth Studies and the Centre for Interdisciplinary Studies. One group of students was awarded the first Centenary Decade Undergraduate Research Grant, announced by the College, the only one of its kind at undergraduate levels in the University, to support original and innovative ideas of undergraduate students. The College has already had three sessions of the decade- long Round Table Conference on Gandhi, which began in 2014 and is envisioned to culminate in an international symposium on Gandhi to mark the centenary of the College. Special exhibitions, lectures, workshops and outreach programs are being organized for this significant event in the life of the College. All these moments are planned keeping you, our students in mind, to enable you to have the best three years of your life here.

In Delhi, families that have traditionally educated women, have passed the portals of this College, as the pioneering institution of higher education for women. Today the College has a vigorous Diversity Integration Program to enable women to empower themselves. Our swimming pool built in 1956, when it was unthinkable for our girls to swim in public institutions, has celebrated its 60th year. The almost 65 year old Kalavati Gupta Hostel on the College campus is under renovation and will open in July 2017. This year the College will be in a position to offer only a limited number of seats on merit in the Indraprastha College Women's Hostel.

The College with its infrastructure and facilities is at your disposal to help you grow and develop, to enable yourselves and become independent and confident young women who can take on the world on their terms. Its accomplished faculty and friendly support staff will encourage you to claim the College as your special world, one that you will treasure and carry with you always. IP College is about you. You are at the centre of its vision: a vision which upholds the values of equality and harmony, while it continues to mainstream the marginalized, even as it pursues the goals of academic excellence.

You have just embarked on a journey of discovery and revelation, a journey that is as much about you as it is about the larger world that you inhabit. Here in IP, embraced by its natural beauty, nurtured by its ideals of women's emancipation and empowerment, you will find the space where you can explore, express, and realize yourself.

Come, let us walk that exciting path together!

The Indraprastha College for Women was founded in 1924 and is the oldest women's college of the University of Delhi. It began with three students, in a room on the second floor of an old, now heritage, mansion housing the Indraprastha Girls' Senior Secondary School, in Chhipiwara in the Jama Masjid area of Chandni Chowk, in the walled city of Old Delhi. Degree courses were introduced in 1930s and in 1938 the University recognised Indraprastha College as a degree college. After some years, the College moved to Chandrawali Bhawan in the Civil Lines, and was moved again to 'Alipore House' at Alipur Road (now Sham Nath Marg) to the office-cum-residence of the British Commander-in-Chief in 1938, where it exists until today.

The parent school and the College both grew out of the efforts of a group of philanthropists associated with the Theosophical Society of India. They were inspired by Mrs. Annie Besant, also a theosophist, who believed in and promoted education for women in North India, at a time when women were confined to the home and realised their destiny in marriage and motherhood. The vision of the College intensified over the decades, and remains focused on the holistic development and empowerment of women.

The College has intersected the National Movement, the Education Reforms Movement and the Women's Movement, and is itself a movement today. It has a glorious tradition of academics and service which has only grown over the years. Housed in a beautiful building, on a green campus spread over 14.5 acres, the College building was accorded heritage status in 2002. The College is a milestone in the heritage walk of colonial Delhi. As the College marches towards its centenary, it has added to its academic and infrastructural resources, always mindful of its core vision to empower and mainstream the marginalized.

Vision

The Vision of the College is to educate, enable and empower young women, emphasizing the need to mainstream the marginalized and weaker sections among them, to ensure justice and equity in society.

Mission

The Mission is to steer the education it offers not only to lead to the pragmatic goal of employability, but also to build a life of the mind and sensitize and orient its students to service of the community, in the quest for a better life for society and the world that we inhabit. The College endeavors to nurture confident and responsible citizens who will uphold the values enshrined in the motto of the College 'Truth, Love, Knowledge, Service'. To this end the College's mission statement is set out as definite tasks which define the College's distinctive characteristics in terms of addressing, the students it seeks to serve, the institutions traditions and value orientations, the needs of society and its course for the future. The Mission is dynamic and its tasks are defined and periodically reviewed to meet the challenges and opportunities of changing times.

Objectives

The Objectives of the College are stated in the tasks of the Mission. The College seeks to inculcate through its programs :

- ❧ belief in self as a woman (through enabling strategies and empowerment as women).
- ❧ awareness of history, heritage and environment (through its own location within these and its links with global concerns and issues)
- ❧ respect and sensitivity for the others (by exposure to culture diversity, languages, human rights)
