The College's heritage campus is carefully nurtured and maintained as a Living Lab, and student activities are organised around its biodiversity and green cover.

- Respect and sensitivity for others, is promoted by a wide exposure to cultural diversity, languages and human rights, both local and global.
- Values of citizenship are inculcated through the College's allegiance to the Constitution, with emphasis on both rights and duties. Civic sense, public conduct, leadership, rights and responsibilities, and service to the nation are reinforced through talks, seminars and discussion programs and the College's public celebration of Flag hoisting on Independence Day and Republic Day, and observance of other national commemorative occasions, which build national pride.
- Development of scientific and rational thinking, which is encouraged through a vigorous academic program and consolidated by research through the College's 7 research and learning resource centres which permit the curriculum to expand beyond the prescribed syllabus.
- Development of presentation and writing skills, which are developed by the College's governance program by providing incentives and funding for research and innovation.
- Enhancement of employability and life-skills, is ensured by the College's outreach to organise hands-on training sessions and workshops with prominent organisations and persons, especially through its internship opportunities, Global Education Fairs and its Career Guidance and Placement Cell.
- Holistic development through curricular and co-curricular activities, is ensured through the College mandated membership and participation of all students in a minimum of two co-curricular activities.

6.1.2 - The effective leadership is visible in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management.

The College believes that effective leadership is not a matter of issuing dictates and ensuring compliances. A non-hierarchical and collegial mode of academic governance ensures decentralization and participative management to create effective leadership. It also ensures transparency and accountability which contribute to building trust in the leadership. There are several mechanisms already present in the institutional practices that promote decentralization and participative management, which are leveraged to the maximum with delegation of tasks and regularity of reporting and review. The most significant mechanism for these is the IQAC, which has an expanded base to represents every section of education administration. The IQAC is supported by statutory bodies such as the Governing Body, and the committees of the Staff Council, the departmental representations, Administration and Accounts, Library, Systems and Network, Hostels, Student Union, Extra-Curricular and Co-Curricular Activity Societies. All these are engaged in determining policies, supervise implementation including recruitment of personnel for a range of tasks, receive feedback and undertake review.

In pursuit of effective leadership the College mentions two important interventions, made in the last two years for decentralization and participative management. The first was the constitution of a committee in the Department of Multi Media and Mass Communication. Hitherto the Department had a Head and a Coordinator. With the constitution of the Committee, the contractual faculty and technical personnel of the Department were brought into decision taking roles and participative operation of the Department. Responsibility of running the Department was shared with the Committee deciding the additional roles that the faculty and personnel would be required to undertake. In the revision of the Syllabus under Learning Outcomes based Curriculum Framework (LOCF), the contractual faculty and technical personnel of the Department, equipped with academic and technical roles as well as their familiarity with the objectives of the course and student profile helped to determine many components of the new syllabus. The Department, collectively in the Committee became the Scientific Committee at the time of procurement of new equipment. The upgrading of the syllabus and the equipment was a result of vigorous, informed and lively participation of the entire Committee.

The second intervention was to ensure participative and accountable functioning of the various cultural and academic societies of the College. These societies over the years were operated by ad-hoc teachers as supervisors. Since the attrition rate among this group of teachers is high, there was slippage of communication and it was found necessary to ensure continuity of the operational guidelines of organizing events in these societies. The logistics of finance, time management and student management were involved. In view of this, the Staff Council with the Principal in Chair, developed and codified guidelines invoking the best practices of the various committees. Along with the suggestions of the administration and accounts departments, and the student body, the best practices developed into the norms to organize any event in the College, and included its budget projection. Since the College has a vital and active academic and cultural life, these norms have become fundamental in streamlining the activities and venues of the activities can be held. Additionally, the booking of venues was made online, in a way that the advisors of various societies could check the availability of the many venues of the College and book as required. This encouraged the democratic optimization of the spaces of the College and also prevented clash of events.

6.2 - Strategy Development and Deployment

6.2.1 - The institutional Strategic/perspective plan is effectively deployed

The opening months of the year 2020, specifically from March 2020, the College and the world were confronted by a situation which was unprecedented in the wake of the pandemic and its protocols. In the face of this the institutional strategic and perspective plan within which all development takes place had to be dovetailed with the conditions of the COVID 19 pandemic. Even though there were directions for a complete lockdown, the institution had to effectively deploy multipronged strategy. Firstly, it had to get the College hostels vacated and students sent to their local guardians/ homes, wherever necessary at its own cost. Secondly, the College ensured that none of its contractual and casual workers was without a livelihood, and the College would meet the expenses, thus incurred. Thirdly, an effective precautionary plan to safeguard the College campus and community had to be devised. Fourthly, the College would need to take measures beyond the prescribed financial limits to meet the medical and physical and mental health needs of its community, and those dependent on it for a livelihood. Lastly, the stray animals, the bird life and the green cover of the College had to be kept alive and maintained as part of the College's own life support system.

All the above was in tandem with the teaching learning process, which shifted online. The College ensured that appropriate steps to support the online activities were taken in terms of infrastructural expansion, connectivity and envisaging and reinventing the co-curricular activities of the College, so that the loss due to physical absence at all levels could be minimized. In a special move to assist visually impaired students of the entire University, the College made available its Audio Repository 'Lecture Hall' developed by its students under mentors as an app, to all the Colleges through its website. The Library resources were made available and accessible to all students under various programs of the University and those that exist for libraries. Community welfare including teacher and employee welfare measures were kept alive in full activation.

The College developed the definition of essential services. Accordingly, cleanliness and sanitation, gardening and watering of the campus and community housing clusters, were regularly maintained by essential service staff, called in on a roster. Areas were demarcated for feeding the animals and birds. Protocols of masking and hand sanitation were thoroughly observed. Accounting and disbursement of salaries of employees, was also treated as essential services and maintained, throughout the period of lockdown. The College issues passes to those that were required to travel to work.

Academic development of teachers and updation of skills among the non-teaching, increased many fold as the Faculty Development Programs, Refresher Courses and Training workshops shifted online. Along with this, student activities too saw an augmentation with webinars, discussions, and other online activities, which ensured the participation of a global community.

It was ensured that the promotional avenues of teachers and non-teaching employees were kept open and the College began the much awaited process of promotion of teachers in October 2020 and completed the first phase by November 2020. Incentivisation of employees was a deployment that worked to increase employee motivation and commitment and reinforced the institutional perspective which envisages the welfare of the community at all ### levels.

For physical and mental health support, the College reached out with support to its community to assist those who did not receive medical support as part of their service conditions. The College Counsellor services were made available to the entire community.

Training programs for students to increase their employability and other skills, and special drives for recruitment and internship were conducted online, with support from the industry. The Enabling Unit of the College continued to organize similar employability and skill enhancement programs for students with different kind of disabilities.

The College encourages training programs and skill-development among the non-teaching staff. Technical Staff is encouraged to attend training for technical development under University Schemes and Programs. The Administrative and Accounts support staff are facilitated by the College to undergo trainings and Specialized Courses at the University Level. The Library staff is encouraged to attend Training Programs at the University Level or any other organization. They are also encouraged to participate in research activities, present papers and attend Refresher Courses and/or Orientation Courses.

The faculty is encouraged and facilitated to attend and participate in Professional Development Programs such as Faculty Development Programs, Orientation Programs, Refresher Courses and Short-term Courses. They are provided facilities and if necessary granted study leave and sabbatical to undertake Research Projects and other Research Activities and devise new pedagogic strategies to develop and strengthen the teaching-learning programs and outcomes and expand the scope of academic activities beyond the curriculum.

None of the aforementioned were permitted to slow down during the period of the lockdown under COVID 19 pandemic.

6.2.2 - The functioning of the institutional bodies is effective and efficient as visible from policies, administrative setup, appointment and service rules, procedures, etc.

The functioning of the institutional bodies is effective and efficient as evident from policies, administrative setup, appointment, service rules and procedures. The organizational structure and functioning of these bodies is laid down in the Rules, Regulations and Statutes of the University of Delhi and is clustered under Academic and Administrative with the Governing Body as employer and top management. The cluster structure permits a multi-pronged process of decision making under defined areas. The 15 member Governing Body is headed by the elected Chairman with the elected Honorary Treasurer as the custodian of finances and legal processes of the College. The Principal is its Member Secretary authorized to execute its decisions on administration, admission, finances, development, recruitment etc. The Staff Council is the academic cluster and the Principal-in-Council is the implementing authority of the decisions taken there in a collegial mode and implemented through its various committees. The Statutory position of the Principal-in-Council under Ordinance XVIII-D of the University, itself envisions a delegation and decentralization of authority in all academic matters. The Principal perceives her role as that of an appellate and arbitrating authority and as a determinant of policy in certain matters and as the implementing authority of the policies and directives of the competent authorities. The administrative cluster is hierarchical with the Administrative Officer as the supervisory authority of the Non-Teaching Staff and assists the Principal in administrative matters. All decisions, policy, budget and expenditure are reported and ratified in the Governing Body. The decision making process is a democratic one and promotes participative management, ownership and accountability.

For efficiency and efficacy, the Principal regularly reviews the activities of the institution. She relies on feedback from teachers and students. Reports are submitted to the Staff Council. Necessary and relevant information is reported by the Principal in the Annual Action Taken Report. College activities are reported in the Governing Body. The Governing Body issues directions as per its assessment but does not intervene in activities envisaged by the departments except in matters of protocol and policy. The Governing Body is supportive in all ventures that enhance institutional prestige and academic, cultural and community life of the College. It formally recognizes exceptional work and makes it a part of College records. It has instituted the Certificate of Appreciation for the Non-Teaching Staff which is awarded on Founder's Day.

Effectiveness, efficiency and quality as values are developed and realized through a set of goals and objectives discussed in reflective sessions with the Governing Body, the Staff Council, Administration and in the Classroom. It is driven by praxis, by organizing institutional activities realizing the mission tasks. It is deployed by identifying best practices and consolidating those across the various units of the College. Reviews are facilitated as a result of comparative assessments, additional goals and objectives, efficacy of existing set of practices and external developments, trends and demands with which the institution desires to align itself. These reviews are already worked into the administrative and academic practices and structures of the College.

6.3.5 - Institutions Performance Appraisal System for teaching and non-teaching staff

Annual Performance Appraisal Report (APAR) is submitted by both teaching and non-teaching staff annually. The APAR is an official mechanism for self-appraisal and is on a prescribed proforma designed as per University norms. The APAR is essential for promotional purposes. Leave record, the record of regularity of attendance, and the time-bound completion of allocated tasks, form a part of the institution's performance appraisal. Course correction, auto correction, and advisories from the reporting authority, are the preferred modes of enhancing institutional performance of all employees.

6.4.3 - Institutional strategies for mobilization of funds and the optimal utilization of resources

The financial management and resource mobilization is monitored as per rules, policies and guidelines issued by the University of Delhi, UGC and Government of India from time to time. The major sources of receipts are Grants from UGC, Government of India, Governing Body or the Management's Share, and Fees collected from the Students. The College also mobilizes donations from Non-Government Agencies, Individuals and Philanthropists for its student's financial aid program.

To ensure proper and optimal utilization of resources, a strict budgetary control on expenditure is exercised as per the rules and regulations prescribed by the University of Delhi, UGC and Government of India and according to the policy of the College. Internal Audit is carried out regularly in this regard under the supervision of the Governing Body.

All disbursals are as per rules and under the directions and approval of the Competent Authority of the Governing Body.

Optimal use of the resource of space for the academic and cocurricular activities is ensured by sharing of available spaces/ venues/ classrooms in the College, worked on an electronic booking roster, for transparency and to prevent clash.

Optimal utilization of resources is inherent in the College policy of 'Reuse, Repair and Recycle' and the policy of 'No Waste Leaves the Campus.' Energy resources are saved by using solar heating on the College pathways and the two hostels of the College. Seven rain water harvesting pits help to store and recycle water for irrigation purposes on the 2.4 acre campus.

With the shift of the teaching learning system from offline to online, the College has sought to bridge the digital divide under its student diversity integration policy, to upgrade existing laptops and make them available to BPL students.

6.5 - Internal Quality Assurance System

6.5.1 - Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies and processes

The College believes that sound ethics, transparency and accountability are essential to institutionalise any mechanism. In this vain the IQAC holds its meetings with regularity every quarter. As a preparatory to the meeting reports are taken from all units of the College, teaching and non-teaching, as well as from students. The transparency regarding the information filed in the IQAC is ascertained by advance circulation of all the Reporting Items with invitation to all colleagues to fill the lacunae in information, in case of any. In this way the IQAC has functioned as a robust, active cell for quality assurance. The IQAC reports and reviews the performance of all the units and proposes suggestions and interventions, wherever necessary, to strengthen quality assurance strategies and processes. The presence of the External Peer and the representative of the Statutory Body of the GB in the IQAC meetings, strengthens the working of the IQAC. The IQAC not only presents and reviews the overall performance of the College, but also always includes the Roadmap for the coming period. It is also a Cell which introspects and analyses the College's successes and shortcomings, wherever these may lie.

In 2020-2021 the IQAC made several recommendations which were taken on record and implemented by the Governing Body of the College. All the IQAC Minutes along with Agenda and Annexures have been put in the public domain of the website of the College.

During the period of the lockdown in the COVID 19 pandemic, the IQAC made concrete interventions in strengthening mental health support systems for the College community and the expansion of online resources crucial for the teaching learning process. It also took on record the personal outreach mails and messages of the Principal, which went a long way to create trust and confidence in the institution.

Additionally the IQAC played a significant role as a Screening and Evaluation Committee in the promotion process for teachers, as per the guidelines of the University of Delhi. This process also assisted in strengthening and institutionalizing the working of the IQAC.

6.5.2 - The institution reviews its teaching learning process, structures & methodologies of operations and learning outcomes at periodic intervals through IQAC set up as per norms and recorded the incremental improvement in various activities

The teaching-learning process is reviewed at several levels beginning with departmental reviews, the Annual Academic Review, the meetings of the Governing Body of the College, and through the IQAC. The IQAC Agenda contains a prospective projection or roadmap for the institution as a substantive item. In the successive meeting the roadmap is referred to for progress made. The progress is also recorded at the level of the Administration and other units of the College. All the proceedings and processes are reflected in the Minutes of the IQAC displayed on the website of the College.

Since the IQAC set up as per norms, includes representatives from all units of the College, it is both routine and mandatory to record the incremental improvement in various activities. As an example, during the dire period of the lockdown since January 2021, the College has mandated the presence of limited departments on a weekly roster following the COVID protocols, to review the teaching-learning processes and student requirements, continually, in that extraordinary and unfamiliar situation. These reviews are recorded in the Minutes of the respective Departments which are submitted from time to time to the Principal, as and when they are called for. Interventions, wherever required, are then designed and implemented through the IQAC recommendations.

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual.

Shanti Paath: Environmental Peace and Harmony; and Khazana-e-Virasat: Treasure of Heritage of Knowledge, Historical Traditions, Art and Culture.

Best Practice I -

Shanti Paath is the Vedic mantra which calls upon Peace for the entire Universe and the cosmos. The phrase 'vanaspateh shaantih' is unique in our Shastra, as it is the only one which calls for Peace upon Vegetation, which is a Divine gift. The environment consciousness of the College is inspired by this phrase in the Shanti Paath and the College nurtures its environment in this spirit of peace and harmony to emphasize on the value and significance of environment the cosmic system and its inhabitants. The College inculcates an organic connection of its community with the environment. The dense green cover and phenomenal biodiversity on the College campus serves as a living laboratory for both observation and practices, and in the interest of sustainability, the College is committed to the optimization of its available material and human resources, and promotes a life-style governed by 'Repair, Reuse and Recycle', following the principle of 'No Waste Leaves the Campus.' Shanti Paath encourages the philosophy and practices of sustainable life and gratitude for its bounties.

Several steps have been taken to widen the scope of Shanti Paath to examine and implement pragmatic experience and knowledge.

Environment Consciousnessis inculcated on a sustained basis to encourage an eco-friendly campus. Its 100 year old heritage campus serves as a laboratory for both observation and practices. The College is a Green Habitat carefully nurtured and forms a part of the green lung of Delhi extending into the Aravalli Ridge. As per the census conducted by the College Department of Environment Studies, with students and teachers, there are 800 trees with 91 species, 56 bird species, 12 butterfly species, 4 species of dragonflies and more than 50 varieties of seasonal flowers and plants, including 7 species of medicinal plants. Student activities are conducted around the campus biodiversity which is yet to be recorded completely. Migratory birds are spotted on the campus, and birding is a regular activity. The campus has a textured nightlife and is animal friendly.

The College functions on the principles of 'Repair, Reuse and Recycle' and 'No Waste Leaves the Campus.'Student's activities are organized around a vigorous Waste Management Program - Project 'Nidaan'. The College has its own composting plant to recycle fallen leaves and food waste, which is used as manure for its organically grown fruits and vegetable gardens. Paper, Electronic and plastic waste is disposed for recycling in collaboration with expert bodies. There are seven water harvesting pits on the campus. The College has shared its indicators under the Swachhta Action Plan of the Mahatma Gandhi National Council of Rural Education. The Project 'Dhyan'is a Community Outreach Program for Disaster Preparedness developed by the Department of Geography of the College. It is committed to pursue Sustainable Development Goals such as Sustainable Cities and Communities (SDG 11), Climate Action (SDG 13), Good Health and Well-Being (SDG 3) and Reduced Inequalities (SDG 10).

Specific Initiatives Taken by the Institution to Make the Campus Eco-friendly

- 1. Regular Tree Plantation to increase green cover for dust attenuation and decrease pollution.
- 2. Solar panels are installed for the pathways and the hostels
- 3. Rainwater harvesting pits are there.
- 4. Waste segregation is a regular practice.
- 5. Ban of Single-Use Plastic.
- 6. Recycle of Plastic for reuse.

- 16. The College's Centre for Earth Studies conducts Certificate Course on Climate Change
- 17. The College has been a centre for monitoring air quality under a project initiated by the National Physical Laboratory, New Delhi.

Best Practice II -

Khazana-e-Virasat is inspired by the College's commitment and passion to preserve and conserve its historical legacy and traditions. Moving towards celebrating 100 years of its existence, IP College is the oldest women's college of the University of Delhi. Its history has intersected the Freedom Movement, the movement for women's education, and that of women's empowerment. The College is the proud custodian of vast resources of historical knowledge inherited in the form of artifacts and documents that can be traced to the beginning of the twentieth century, to as early as 1904. To preserve, conserve and display its heritage and historical traditions, the College established its own Archive in 2006, thus becoming the only College of the University of Delhi to house its own Archive. This was expanded in 2016 to become the Museum and Archive Learning Resource Centre (MALRC). Khazana-e-Virasat as a best practice of the College encourages the consciousness of heritage, history, tradition, conservation and restoration of tangible and intangible heritage.

The Museum and Archive Learning Resource Centre helped to disseminate a sense of ownership, as well as belonging in the College community, making it the shared custodian and participant of a tangible and intangible heritage.

The Museum and Archives Learning Resource Centre captures not only the history but also the cultural and political ethos of the College. There are many fascinating details, interesting moments and events in the life of the College – now in its 97th Year – which deserved to be retrieved, preserved and brought to a larger audience. The commitment of the College to preserve, conserve, digitize, catalogue and house the inheritances on a continual basis and sensitize the College community to its heritage led to the extension of MALRC, adding another wing for display, projections, seminars, symposiums and research projects. The Museum and Archives features the period 1904-2006 and 2007-2020.

It displays rare documents and photographs of the colonial period, the city of Delhi, the history of the College and its transition over time to a modern, progressive institution of liberal learning.

MALRC is a significant addition to the corpus on institutional histories, heritage learning, gender and the city of Delhi and has facilitated researchers, scholars and all such persons who wish to explore these issues. The documents, newspapers and photographs are digitized, conserved, restored and catalogued, making MALRC into one of the gleaming, modern centres of the College. A few QR (Quick Response) codes with details on selected displayed items have been put up in the MALRC, which can be scanned with Smart Phones and accessed through the College Website.

The Museum and Archives Learning Resource Centre, since 2016 has continued to attract Research Scholars, both national and international, interested in the history of Delhi, institutional history, gender studies, freedom movement, women's role in it, women's education and the invaluable contribution of Indian and Australian women, significantly to the making and consolidation of the College. Research conducted in the MALRC by national and international groups have led to the focus on connections between Indian and Australian women in the mid-twentieth century with the focus on Ms. Leonara G'meiner, the first Principal of the College, who was an Australian. On the occasion of the 75th anniversary of the Quit India Movement in August 2016, newspapers have covered the College under Yaad Karo Qurbani. The College collaborated with Sahapedia, an online encyclopedic resource on South Asian History and Culture for a Project on 'Education in Delhi: Charting its History' featured Indraprastha College for Women https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=d12 LHnd ZQ .

To sensitize new entrants to the College to values of heritage, conservation and awareness about the history of the College, a vist to the MALRC and a Heritage Walk of the historical campus of the College is conducted regularly as part of the Student Orientation Program. MALRC has often participated in Delhi Walk Festival in association with Delhi Heritage Walk and conducted heritage walks for the visitors and the College community.

The MALRC since 2016 releases a Heritage Calendar annually, encapsulating nuggets of information and pictures from the MALRC.

Thus the College's endeavour to excite passion, sensibilities and consciousness of a glorious legacy, and pay tribute to these is enshrined in the Best Practice Khazana-e-Virasat.

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 - Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust within 200 words

The period under consideration i.e. June 2020 - May 2021, has been tumultuous and challenging because of the COVID 19 pandemic, and the life choices it imposed. The period also overlapped in phases with the lockdown imposed by the Government. In this scenario, the institutional priority shifted to not only maintenance of an optimal online teaching-learning process, but significantly to the physical and mental wellbeing of the entire community of the College.

Student Diversity Integration was reinforced and maintained with a record number of financial waivers given to COVID afflicted students. The College Counselling services were made available for mental health issues faced by women, constrained to live often in oppressive and exploitative domestic situations, without any possibility of outlets. The Principal maintained an online personal outreach with all members of the community, with reassurance and availability of facilities in case of need, which included oxygen cylinders available with the College, and a ready and updated database for COVID facilities available in the city. A number of workshops and talks were conducted for mental health support.

The College also successfully conducted the processes of promotion of its faculty, mostly online, which contributed to the sense of wellbeing among faculty and revitalized student engagement.
