

TTSC Events 2016

TTSC successfully organized a Certificate Course in Editing and Publishing from 6th September 2016 to 6th October 2016 in collaboration with Vani Prakashan. Various experts in the field of publishing and editing shared their knowledge and experiences during the course. It witnessed the active participation of many students from different departments of the college, some of whom went on to obtain internship opportunities in publishing houses.

To commemorate the legacy of the prolific writer Mahasweta Devi, a talk 'In Memoriam: Mahasweta Devi' was held on 23rd September 2016. The eminent speakers Dr. Indra Nath Choudhuri and Dr. Babli Moitra Saraf spoke about 'Mahasweta Devi: Enigma for a Critic and Translator' and 'Mahasweta Devi in Italy' respectively. They held a nuanced and engaging discussion on the life and oeuvre of the writer.

The second volume of the TTSC journal of translation CODE was released on 6th April 2016. With the overarching theme of 'Children's Literature', the journal comprised translations of poems, oral narratives and stories for children from a vivid spectrum of fifteen languages and dialects. The illustrations, designed and drawn by the students of the college, formed an integral part of the journal. Dr. Anamika, a poet and translator and an Associate Professor at Satyawati College, was the guest speaker at the event, which was attended by a large number of students and faculty members. The principal Dr. Babli Moitra Saraf, chaired the session.
