

Indraprastha College for Women organized the 13th Annual Public Lecture on August 9, 2018 endowed by Indraprastha Girls' Senior Secondary School. Dr. Faizan Mustafa, Vice Chancellor, NALSAR University of Law, Hyderabad, spoke on the topic, 'Constitution, Law and Women'.

Dr. Mustafa addressed a packed auditorium and began with dissecting the relationship between Religion and State. He went on to analyse the treatment meted out to women in different religions and consequently, personal laws. Dr. Mustafa also talked at length about the British influence on our Constitution, and the various Constitutional provisions made for women in the country. The lecture concluded on the note of our societal responsibility to accept, acknowledge and celebrate gender differences, and provide fair treatment to all.

The talk was followed by a question answer session wherein the students present in the audience posed several insightful questions and observations to the speaker.
