

About IAYP

The International Award for Young People (IAYP) is the most adaptable and successful youth empowerment program. The aim of the award is to motivate young people to become involved in a balanced programme of voluntary self-development activities. The Award's concept is one of individual challenge, giving young people a balanced, non-competitive programme of voluntary activities which encourage personal discovery and growth, self-reliance, perseverance, responsibility to themselves and service to their community.

History of IAYP at Indraprastha College for Women

The International Award for Young People's inaugural orientation program in college was held on the 14th September 2015. The Orientation was addressed by the Principal, who herself having been the member of governing council of IAYP for a long time, introduced the Award officially in college. The College will act as a YES centre for the program by providing essential facilities such as infrastructural provisions to facilitate the working of the program.

The IAYP India conducted a two-day workshop on the different levels of the award and the procedures to be followed while pursuing the award. The workshop was attended by the teachers of various schools from all over north India. Mariyeh Mushtaq and Amandeep Narang attended a workshop which served as a platform and got an opportunity to interact with the representatives of the prestigious schools and to learn more about the award.
