

Community Outreach and Project Nidaan

Indraprastha College for Women University of Delhi

Project Nidaan

What Goes Where?

In the year 2020, the community outreach was involved co-opted into waste recycling and management project of the college called 'Project Nidaan' in which all departments were to monitor waste management and one allied activity to spread further awareness. The departments of Commerce, Computer Science, Economics and English undertook this exercise till March. The project will be carried forward in the next semester. Details are available under community outreach tab of the website.